Congratulations to the Queenslanders Bradley Ditton,Sean Cranney, and Craig Moore who have been named in the Australian Under 20 Squad to tour Holland.

The selection of the three players from Queensland in the Australian Youth Team must give the encouragement needed to all our young soccer players throughout the State to maintain the hard work at training and on the playing field because you never know when the Queensland, Brisbane United or the Australian Coach may make that all important phone call.

The Brisbane United Supporters Club Committee is up and running. If you would like to become involved with the 1992/93 Pre-Season planning operation along with the wrap up of the current season, please make contact with the Brisbane United office Ph.279 3812 and Jeanette will put you in contact with the new President of the Supporters Club.

Brisbane United will play Marconi in the Cup Semi-Final in Sydney next Wednesday. It's a pity the game is not being played in Brisbane but under the rules and regulations this cannot occur. Marconi also have to move away from their favourite ground at Fairfield. It certainly should be a great match, it's a pity we all can't be there. Good luck to Brisbane United.

A big welcome to South Melbourne. The club has a very impressive list of playing staff consisting of current Socceroos, members of the Australian Olympic Squad and representatives from the Australian Youth sides. Maybe now that Queensand has a team in the National League again our Queensland playing talent will start to be recognised and within the not too distant future Brisbane United will be able to boast the international depth of talent South Melbourne has at its disposal.

Good luck to both teams. It will certainly be an exciting night of football.

FROM THE COACHING STAFF

After a four week break we have had a demanding 3 games in a week. Added to the effects of travel and the humid wet conditions during training. These games against top five sides have drained energy reserves.

The home win over Wollongong was a tribute to the fitness and determination of the players after the crazy events just before half-time. Mirko came out too quickly as Glen Gwynne played a short pass back and he handled outside the box - a yellow card offence but not a send off, as Glen was still between the Wollongong attacker and the ball when the offence took place. Off went an unhappy Mirko but, come the hour, come the man. A most unlikely candidate pulled on the huge jersey - Stevie Bullock. We looked at each other on the bench with disbelief. Both reserve outfield goalkeepers who train once a week with Kim Wishart, Frank and were not stripped so someone had to take the responsibility. What an inspiration Steve proved to be and deserved the "Man of the Match" award - with all the others close behind. The moral to the tale - if we can beast the second placed team with 10 min then we can beat anyone with eleven.

The postponed Sydney Olympic game was played on the following Wednesday and another determined performance to draw 1-1. Robbie Farrow had a sound debut in goal while Mark Greer and John Brown consolidated previous excellent performances.

Then another tiring journey to Adelaide City on Sunday with the home side desperate for a win. Lack of concentration allowed a speedy build up and an excellent finish to put City 1-0 up just before half-time. A change of tactics and United came out firing with 4 attackers keeping City penned in their own half. Alan Hunter and Chris Slater saw good shots turned away by post and keeper. Brad Ditton and Dave Hunter came on to add energy and strength but time - and the points - slipped away. It was a long journey home empty handed.

We had a break from normal training last Friday night with Perry Park under water, we went to the Y.M.C.A. gym in Ann Street. A solid half hour aerobics followed by basketball and a weight training session gave a good sweat up. Our thanks to Andy, the boss of the gym, and to Heather, the cute and energetic instructor, we all enjoyed your hospitality.

Our congratulations to Sean Cranney and Brad Ditton for selection in the young Australian Squad heading overseas this week. Both played extremely well against Wollongong with Brad backing up another sound performance against Adelaide City.

A top five place is still possible with 5 games to go, but with so few points between top and bottom, a careless reach for the stars could result in a drop into the pit. Once again it is one game at a time, and now more important than the scalp of the exciting and entertaining South Melbourne.

Lets give them a real Perry Park going over, both on and off the field and a heartfelt welcome to the legend Ferenc Puskas.

Miron and Joe.

XXXX PRE SEASON RULES

The following rules have been adopted by the Queensland Soccer Federation for the XXXX Pre Season Tournament:

In the Qualifying Series:

Each team will play the others in its group once, with the top team in each group moving to the semi finals.

Teams winning their match shall receive three points. A team losing a match receives no points. In the event of a draw after 90 minutes, a *shoot-out will take place. The team winning the shoot-out will receive two points; the shoot-out loser gets one point.

In the event of teams in a group being level on points at the end of the round-robin, they shall be separated firstly on goal difference, then number of goals scored and then the previous result between the two teams.

In the Knock-out phase:

Teams shall advance according to the set schedule.

Should any match be drawn after 90 minutes, 20 minutes (2x10 minutes) of extra-time will follow. However, in this extra time the moment a goal is scored, the game will cease. If the scores are still deadlocked, a *shoot-out will take place.

In the qualifying and knock-out series, each team may make three substitutions in a match. FIFA rules apply in relation to all other matters.

The prizemoney split:

Prizemoney in the XXXX Pre-Season Tournament will be allocated as follows:

WINNER - $5000; RUNNER-UP - $2000
There is no play-off for third.

XXXX SHOOT-OUT

 In the early Group rounds, if a match finishes in a draw a "Shoot-out" will take place to determine the team to pick up a bonus point.

An attacker from the halfway line has a 10 sec. time limit to run with the ball and beat the goalkeeper. The team scoring the most goals wins the bonus point. Players are rotated as for penalty deciders under F.I.F.A. rules.

COMMENT

Reprinted below is the amended Law pertaining to Send-Offs, which might clarify to supporters the events that occurred in our last home fixture against Wollongong City.

"16 If in the opinion of the referee a player, other than the goalkeeper within his own penalty area, denies his opponents a goal, or an obvious goal-scoring opportunity, by intentionally handling the ball, he shall be sent off the field of play for serious foul play in accordance with Law XII (n)."

"Please take note that the intention of Decision (16) is not to penalise every hand ball offence within the penalty-area by sending off the offender. The essential factor is that the handling of the ball is deliberately intended to deny the opponent of an obvious chance of scoring a goal, for example a defender who purposely stops the ball with his hand (s) just as the ball is about to enter the net.

Likewise, a goalkeeper who prevents an obvious goal-scoring opportunity by stopping the ball with his hand (s) outside the penalty-area shall also be sent off."

Remember, these are from the Laws of the Game, and it is the referee's decision, as to actions to be taken at the time.

BULLOCK DOES IT IN STYLE

A classy goalkeeping display by defender Steven Bullock steered Brisbane United to a 2–1 win over Wollongong City at Perry Park two weeks ago.

Bullock was forced to take over the keeping duties after referee Peter Hulme sent Mirko Runje from the field after he handled outside the box following a mix up with defender Glenn Gwynne.

The send off came just before half time in a period in the match when United were dominating general play and looking dangerous with each attacking move.

United came out firing after the break and scored in the 49th minute.

Jim McDonagh found Robert Markovac unmarked at the far post and he made no mistake with the header.

Five minutes later it was 2–0 after Wollongong defender Mike Hollifield turned a Frank Pimblett cross into his own net.

United, led by some inspirational saves from Bullock, defended well and thoroughly deserved the victory.

Bullock was finally beaten five minutes from time after striker Grant Bard found the net.

CROWEATERS GRAB THE POINTS

A 42nd minute goal from Adelaide City striker Joe Barbaro was enough to grab the points and send United's slim top five chances plummeting.

United, now five points outside the top five, needed at least a draw to stay in touch with the league leaders, but struggled to find the net.

Outplayed in the first half, United came out attacking and had several chances to score.

Skipper Alan Hunter led the way and was unlucky not to score after his shot hit the outside of the post.

Chris Slater was also unlucky not to score after Zabica saved tipped his shot over the bar.

United pressed in attack but could not penetrate the Adelaide defence after dominating the second half.

Adelaide City 1 def Brisbane United 0
Best: Bullock, Hunter.

UNITED BRING HOME A POINT

Brisbane United returned to Brisbane with a point after holding the more fancied Sydney Olympic to a 1–1 draw.

United, who went to the half–time break a goal down, surprised their Sydney hosts in the 59th minute with a well worked goal from Jim McDonagh after good lead–up work from Frank Mengotti and Mark Greer.

The draw keeps United in touch with the five and adds to their impressive away match record in Sydney.

United are yet to lose in Sydney although Wollongong, Melbourne and Adelaide have all produced losses.

FROM THE PHYSIOTHERAPIST

STRENGTHENING FOR SOCCER

It has become quite topical to address the idea of a strength and conditioning coach for elite Athletes. Contrary to popular belief, the edge many elite teams gain over their opposition is their ability to jump higher, for longer and with greater efficiency! The area of fitness prescription is a science – Post Graduate qualifications in this area are required to obtain top employment. It will not be long before all teams will have a permanent staff member dedicated to just this area.

Depending upon the specific requirement of the athlete, the prescription may be for relative strength (strength per kg. or body weight), hypertrophy (building bulk), speed-strength or strength-endurance. No longer does an athlete complete three sets of ten repetitions of a particular exercise, such systems as cyclical set, bulk, light to heavy, super-set, triangle, cheat, tri-set, blitz, burn or exhaustion set maybe employed by the strength coach to facilitate the maximum gains with his/her athletes.

Importantly, this information is available to all and should be accessed with all of the safeguards which are inherent in all resistance training. Up to the biological age of sixteen years weights no greater than body weight should be attempted. All programmes need to be supervised by trained staff. All programmes involve full warm ups, warm up sets and complete flexibility programmes. Increases as a rule should be made when adaptation has occurred, that's not every third session or every week! As usual, if in doubt, professional staff are available – locate the exercise physiologist suggested by your sports physician/sports physiotherapist and assess the knowledge they have. It is important to realize that it may take six to twelve months to perfect correct technique to gain full benefit from strength training.

Our best example of the effect of a comprehensive twelve month strength programme is our new signing, Brad Ditton. I know that his great physique and all round condition is as a result of a finally tuned programme at the Australian Institute of Sport. I'm sure Brad will compare the points we have made in this article.

Good advice is generally cheap and will increase your skill and efficiency. So do the right thing and look after your elite players/kids by talking to a good strength coach who understands this emerging science.

Happy soccering, Michael Dalgleish

FROM THE LOCKER ROOM – with Chris Slater

Congratulations to Sean Cranney and Brad Ditton on their selection in the Australian Under 20 team to tour Holland. I'm sure there are plenty of young players out there who are green with envy at the thought of a three week tour overseas playing for Australia. It just goes to show you that the opportunities are there for all Queensland kids if they are just willing to work hard, stay disciplined and stick at it.

Our last home game against Wollongong City was excitement at its best and I'm sure our supporters enjoyed it as much as we did. Thanks for all your support. We hope to hear from you again tonight.

Tonight we host some of the best players in the country. Players such as Paul Wade, Mike Petersen, Mehmet Durakovic and Paul Trimboli have made themselves household names in Australian Soccer and there will be a lot to learn off them in tonights match.

The game will be tough and we'll give Hellas all the respect they deserve but we will by no means be overawed. Last time we played them it took us 45 minutes to get settled in and we paid the penalty losing 4–1. So tonight we hope to turn this around.

On a brighter note Frank Mengotti's wife is expecting their second child and may well have had it by the time this goes to print. So Loretta, good luck!, or congratulations!, whatever is appropriate.

Finally, don't miss our next home game against Newcastle. The game will be a cracker with plenty of fireworks and a big crowd is expected so we hope to see you here at Perry Park at 7.00pm Saturday March 14.

Anyway that's the scoop, Catch you later.... Slates.

Frank Mengotti

Craig Williams, signed from Sydney club Parramatta Melita at the beginning of the season, has been one of United's quiet achievers in the NSL putting in some solid, hard hitting performances.

Craig returned to the side for their match against Adelaide City last weekend after spending three weeks on the sidelines with an ankle injury.

His solid performance in the match was a confidence builder and we expect to see great things from him over the last five weeks.

We wish him all the best for today's match and for the rest of the season. Good Luck!
